THERE IS NO SECRET

IN THIS WOMAN'S CASE.

Mrs. Campbell Wishes Her Letter Published So That the Truth May Be Known.

Of the thousands of letters received from women all over the world by Mrs. Pinkham, not one is given to the public unless by the wish of the writer. Thus absolute confidence is established between Mrs. Pinkham and her army of patients; and she freely solicits a letter from any woman, rich or poor, who is in ill health or ailing.

In the case of Mary E. Campbell of Albion, Noble Co., Ind., her suffering was so severe, her relief so suddenly realized, and her gratitude so great, that she wishes the circumstances published, in the hope that others may be benefited thereby. She says:

"My physician told me I had dropsy and falling of the womb. My stomach and bowels were so bloated I could not get a full breath. My face and hands were bloated badly. I had that dreadful bearing down pain, backache, palpitation of the heart and nervousness.

"One of my physicians told me I had something growing in my stomach; and the medicine that I took gave me relief only for a short time. I thought I must die. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it worked like a charm

"After taking the first bottle I could walk across the street; now I am well. I advise all my friends to take it, for it is surely the most wonderful medicine for female ills in the world. I feel that my cure is miraculous."

MARY E. CAMPBELL, Albion, Noble Co., Ind.

Never in the history of medicine has the demand for one particular remedy for female diseases equalled that attained by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and never in the history of Mrs. Pinkham's wonderful Compound has the demand for it been so great as it is to-day. Druggists say it is wonderful.

From Maine to California, from the Gulf to the St. Lawrence, come the glad tidings of woman's suffering relieved by it. All intelligent women now acknowledge its reliability.

HIS FIRST LION.

Hunter Stands Still and Simply Stares at the Beast.

In "Lion Hunting in Somaliland," Capt. Mellis tells how he met his first lion—or, rather, two. He had been out on a hunt, finding nothing better than gazelles and antelopes, and at nightfall, after supper, lit his pipe and strolled to the river bank. After a few minutes spent in meditation he started to return and saw a lion and a lioness, not more than 20 yards distant, eyeing him attentively. Capt. Mellis had not even a knife with him, and felt certain that if he called for help the beasts would pounce on him. So he did the only thing possible—he stood stock still, hoping they might take him for an inanimate object. They growled once or twice, as if they suspected something, but finally drank and went away quietly. After that he never stirred without a weapon of some kind.

A RUSSIAN PHILANTHROPIST.

Bought the Freedom of the Serfs of His Native Village.

There died recently in Moscow a man who in the last 20 years gave $5,000,000 to charity. He was State Councillor Jermakoff, who came from a poor family. His first public act which excited general attention was the purchase of the freedom of all the serfs living in his native village. This cost him $120,000. He came to the rescue of the poor people time and time again when the harvests failed. His funeral was one of the largest ever seen in the old burial place of the Russian czars, thousands of the poor of the capital following the philanthropist's body to the grave

Stupid Litigation.

A stupidly obstinate piece of litigation has been settled by the house of lords. Two Aberdeenshire land owners quarreled over the right to fish in the River Dee, which borders their estates for 150 yards. Both admitted that the fishing was of no value, but they had spent $15,000 to have their rights decided.

The Sea Cucumber.

The sea cucumber, one of the curious jelly bodies that inhabit the ocean, can practically efface himself while in danger by squeezing the water out of his body and forcing himself into a narrow crack, so narrow as not to be visible to the naked eye. He can throw out nearly the whole of his inside, and yet live and grow it again.

Listen for Angel Music.

The children at Bethlehem are told by their mothers that on Christmas eve a choir of angels sings above the place where Christ was born. Travelers say that on this evening scores, and sometimes hundreds, of children may be seen in the open air, looking up into the sky, waiting to hear the angels sing.

Ancient Makers of Shoes.

Shoemakers were at first called sandal-makers, and there is little doubt that sandals and rough buskins, or socks (covering the legs like gaiters), were the first specimen of shoes.

AN ELABORATE MOSAIC.

Executed for a Beautiful Palace in Vienna.

The British vice-consul in Venice in his last report says that mosaics still continue in great demand there, says the London Times. A well-known company executed last year a splendid mosaic for a palace now in course of construction in Vienna It measures 1,000 square feet and is copied from cartoons by the painter, Edward Weith. It represents the five parts of the world. Europe stands in the center of the frieze, represented by the symbolic figures of its various nations, having on one side the emblems of industry and trade and at the top the emblem of the flying genius of light. On the right are the figures of Asia, India, China and Japan, with their rajahs, mandarins and the allegorical chrysanthemum. Next follows Africa, with camel-drivers, palm trees and other African symbols; on the left, America and Australia, with natives on horseback and on foot, foliage and other emblems.

All this variety of types, from the fair Circassian down to the negro, and the display of costumes, from the most decorative to the simplest, have enabled the painter to arrange 24 figures with great delicacy of color and in an artistic manner. Over these figures, which rest on an ornamental base, a blue sky reflects all around its light so as to unite all the tints of the mosaic and to give the whole a harmony of effect which is said to be most delightful to the eye. The same company is executing another important mosaic for the apse of the Guards' chapel at the Wellington barracks in London from cartoons.

Imprudent, But Gushing.

Young women who take books at the circulating library are imprudent to use their pages as blotters. They are doing wrong also, for it is against the rules. A copy of "Lord Ormond and His Aminta," which has been in use in a Philadelphia library, held in front of a mirror revealed the inscription: "I send you my heart with a kiss." All women finish their letters with that phrase, which cannot therefore betray anybody, but in this case the signature was there.

Shoes of the Gauls.

Before the Gauls were conquered by the Romans they had boots or shoes with soles in which were silver-headed nails. Some of these have been discovered in late years. The latter kind of boots and shoes—the long pointed ones—so familiar in pictures of the 14th century, and others, are more generally known.

Sabbath in Scotland.

Scotland's Sabbath is losing its sanctity. Driving, cycling and golf on Sunday have now been followed by a vote of the Glasgow corporation throwing open the public bath-houses for four hours on Sunday morning.

Cincinnati.

Cincinnati is worth $188,751,350, and has a debt of $26,240,197.

A LITTLE HEATHEN.

BY MONTGOMERY M. FOLSOM.

Jack was a heathen. Oh, the little imp, how tough he was! I was a model boy. I was, for a fact, you may believe it or not; I used to hold down my head when grace was being said; I knew the Ten Commandments and the Lord's Prayer by heart, and I was a child of many virtues.

Jack was as mean as the old scratch. He would cut his eye around at me and try to make me laugh while the blessing was being asked; he would stick pins in the little boys as they knelt at prayers; he would roo birds' nests, and when remonstrated with would say:

"Why, my gracious, let the old fool bird go lay some more aiggs, she's got the whole summer and 'tain't much trouble to lay a few little old aiggs like them."

We used to read tales in our reading books about how bad boys came to bad ends, and Jack would laugh at them.

"Shucks!" he would say, "them old book men can't fool me. What makes gran'ma kill chickens on Sunday, if it's a sin to go in washin'? I notice one thing: ol' brother Kicklighter al'us eats mighty hearty, and if it wus a sin to kill 'em it'd be a sin to eat 'em. They can't scare nobody."

Ah, the dear little old freckled face! Worlds would I give to have it come between me and the sun again ere I reach the vale of shadows.

He would whip the stuffing out of a boy for my sake. I remember once a fellow called me "wormy." We were coming home from Sunday-school, and I had resolved not to resent any insult—a very convenient way of resolving, by the way—and the big boy would have gone unpunished but for Jack.

What did he do? He lit onto that fellow, and he pelted him in the burr of the ear and got him down and such a thrashing that boy never toted before. That was Jack's style. No foolishness about him. He was of that particular type of ugliness that denotes cussedness and original sin.

I used to pray for Jack when the preacher would tell us to pray for all those whom we thought needed our prayers. Jack was cutting a jagged "J" on the back of the seat while I was praying for his conversion.

Ah, the days, the golden days, when the summers seemed so long. I wonder if the summers of paradise will not possess that same sweet, delicious lingering when the pathos and the passion of mortal life are past?

Sometimes I dream of Jack, now. The other night, I don't know what got into me, but I dreamed that we were rambling along the banks of one of those winding southern rivers, whose languid waters were murmuring, whispering, lisping among the reeds and rushes.

There was a flash of shining sand around the bend, and we came to a place where there was a thicket of cypress saplings. I saw one that would make the finest sort of a fishing pole, and Jack went to cut it for me. It grew right on the bank of a slough of black water, on whose sheeny bosom the tupelo gum berries were afloat.

I was timid—good boys are not always brave boys—and Jack went to cut the pole for me. I saw him open the little old rusty barlow knife, and he reached far over the treacherous bank.

He had cut it most in two, when there was a crash.

"Splash!"

The spray flew upward in a shower and blinded my eyes, and when I opened them—Jack was gone!

I was sitting up in bed gasping, struggling, choking, in my efforts to call help. Such dreams are our lives made up. Sometimes as I sit gazing up at the summer heavens I am startled by the illusion that I see that boy's face through a rift in the clouds.

Jack was a bad boy. Popper Joe used to shake his head and mutter:

'I tell you, dat boy's sho' ter come ter some bad end."

Then he would point to me and remark:

"But dar's a chile w'at'll be somebody. Dat's er good chile, de Lawd knows he is, an' folk'll make much er him w'en he gits ter be a growed up man."

I was so pitifully pious in those days. The fact is, I think I was not well. The chariot wheels of time rolled noiselessly on, and poor old blind Fate sat in the doorway of the future, with her palsied fingers untangling the skein of destiny, her withered lips all the while crooning those weird ditties whose echoes now and then thrill our souls with the warning of prophecy.

Jack was as tough as a lightwood knot, and nobody ever thought about him getting sick. He was too full of devilment to stay in bed, but they were very careful about me.

One winter we had an awful spell of weather and the stock suffered severely, for we had no shelter for them in the country in the days when I was a boy.

Jack had a favorite cow that had a little calf, and one cold drizzly afternoon the cow and calf failed to come home. Jack went in search of them, and it was late when he came back. He had brought the little calf in his arms a good portion of the way, and he drove the cow into the lot and gave her a big basket of shucks and nubbins, and put the little, weakly calf in a warm place.

It was dark when he came in, cold and tired, but he was as joyous and light-hearted as ever. He went over the rigmarole about—

"Amo daree my, romp stomp dominicker, shuck back, penniwinkle, instep nipcat, sing song kitty kin you kimee, O," and he cut a shuffle and turned a handspring as he came through the passage.

Before we went to bed we sat down before the fire and took the wet rags off his toes and tied them up with some dry ones, jokingly calling his big toe "big Ike," and the little toe "little Ike" as he fixed them.

During the night he woke me up telling me he was so hot and that he ached all over. I told him to go to sleep and not turn over and kick so much. Next morning he said he felt too bad to get up, and asked me to see about his cow and especially the calf.

I grumbled a good deal, and went and told grandma that Jack was too lazy to get up. She went to see about him and she said he had a fever. I went out and attended to the cow, expecting to find him up when I returned, but he was still tossing about in bed, and he began to talk foolish.

I scolded him about it and told grandma. She looked very grave when she went in and felt of his face, and she went and told one of the boys to go after the doctor.

Then I began to get uneasy. The place seemed so lonely and I never missed anyone so much in my life.

The cat dozed on the hearth in peace and the house was so quiet and still. The old doctor drove up to the gate in his sulky and took out his little leather saddle-bags and walked into the room where Jack was.

I watched him anxiously and when he took grandma aside and talked low to her I just caught the word "pneumonia." It was unfamiliar to me, and I felt a premonition of coming sorrow.

All day long I hung about the door and late in the evening they told me that I would have to sleep in another room. I went in to see Jack, and he was tossing about, muttering something about his cow.

"I fed her, Jack, and I threw down some straw for her to sleep on," I said.

He looked at me, but he did not seem to understand. His eyes were so bright and his cheeks were so red that I didn't know what to make of it. That night I could not go to sleep and kept staring at the ceiling, thinking, thinking, thinking.

At last I got up softly and stole into his room. The candle was burning low and grandma and grandpa were sitting by the fire. Jack was lying still, with his eyes half open and he was breathing hard.

"Is he any better?" I asked, with a great lump in my throat

"No, my son, he is mighty sick. Go back to bed now."

I went back to my room and I got down on my knees. I never will forget that night. I prayed; prayed as I never prayed before, as I have never prayed since. The words were broken with sobs.

Oh, the anguish of those dark hours! I would pray awhile and then I would stop and wonder if the good Lord heard me. Perhaps He was too busy at the time, and I would ask Him again in my childish simplicity, hoping that I might attract His attention.

A way long towards day I fell asleep and the sun was shining when I awoke, shining in the cloudless heavens, and the day was real mild.

I went into the room where the sick boy lay, and I saw that there was a change. His face was pale and his eyes sunken, and his breath came in gasps. I gulped down a sob as I looked at that shaggy head, and thought how often I had seen it bobbing about the house Such a day as this we would be out about the lot, and you could hear his whistle as merry as a mocking bird in May.

And now—

The candlestick with the half-burned candle, three medicine bottles on the mantel; the cup and the spoon and all the sad reminders of sickness and suffering. Aunt Ailsie walking softly about the room, keeping watch while the old folks got a little sleep.

"Is he any better?"

"No chile, he ain't no better, honey. De doctah say ef dey ain' some change po' little Jack won't be heah long."

I couldn't bear it. The good old mammy came and put her withered arms around me and kissed me and told me not to cry. I went out to the lot and Popper Joe was giving the cow some nubbins, and the calf was skipping clumsily around. The sight of them set me to crying again, and I turned away. Ah, the dismal day! Better the clouds and the dreary rain with Jack well, than floods of sunshine and he so sick. Late in the afternoon grandma called me.

"Come in here, son, Jack wants to see you."

I went into the room. The lingering rays of the wintry sun struggled in through the windows and fell on the snowy counterpane.

His face was ashen pale, and his eyes were no longer restless. He looked at me and a faint smile played about the pinched features. It was like the dying light of the wintry day.

He motioned me to come closer, and I found that his voice was so weak that he could but speak in whispers. The old doctor sat with his hand on the little wrist, and the family were gathered around the bed.

Then the fountains of my heart were broken up and I gave way to my grief.

"I want you to have all my things. Good-by," he whispered, and then they took me away.

As I lay sobbing and moaning in my room, I heard a cry from Aunt Ailsie:

"Oh, God bless my po' chile. Dey's one mo' angel done gone to glory!"

Now, I have told you the story. I cannot, even unto this day, dwell further on the sad theme. But it is a mystery to me why people should keep on harping about good boys and bad boys when I know just as well as I am sitting here that my boy comrade has gone to a better world than this!

And look at me. I was a model boy, and have lived to make more mistakes, suffer for more sins, and weep over more wrecked hopes than I can ever tell.

Dear old playmate, here is a tear to your memory, to the memory of a bad boy whose wantonness was mistaken for wickedness. Had you lived who knows but that your strength might have walled in my weakness, and kept these erring feet from straying.—Southern Farmer.

A Double-Action Joke.

Dumas fils tells of a double-acting joke which he played on Meissonier, who was a botanist in his hours of leisure. The famous dramatist sent him a paper containing the dried roe of a herring, telling him that it was the seed of a very rare plant. "How are the seeds coming on?" he asked the great painter the next time he saw him. "Oh, beautifully; I have planted them in a circle." And he took the astonished joker to a corner of the garden where the heads of young herrings were just peeping out.

Titled Thieves.

A princess, a countess, a duchess and the daughter of a reigning prince were among the 4,000 thieves, professional and unprofessional, arrested in Paris during the first six months of last year.

ADVANTAGES OF LIBERIA.

Prof. O. F. Cook Speaks of the African Republic.

Prof. O. F. Cook, of Huntington, L. I., who has spent the winter in Liberia, Africa, studying the plant and animal life of that region, has returned to his home. He says, according to the Republic, that the advantages of Africa as a place of residence, even for the white race, are but imperfectly understood. Liberia is naturally no more unhealthful than other tropical countries, in which civilization has taken root, such as India and South America, and, as in these cases, the healthfulness increases as the forests are cleared away and better conditions of life rendered possible through improvements in transportation. Mr. Cook has spent several seasons in Africa in pursuing his investigation in the interest of the American and the New York State Colonization societies, with a view to ascertaining the possibility of resuming, under new plans, the colonization of Liberia with negroes from the United States. He says former movements in that direction have failed through want of proper management rather than on account of any insurmountable difficulties inherent in the idea of colonization or in the nature of the country where settlements of American negroes were attempted. That something is possible, he says, is demonstrated by the fact that many colonists who left America 15 or 20 years ago with nothing have now coffee farms, yielding incomes greater than their owners can spend, while others have achieved independence in much less time.

MADE THE ANNOUNCEMENT.

President McCosh's Novel Method of Complying with a Request.

President McCosh, of Princeton, is the subject of this story, says the New York Call, which is vouched for by old Princeton men: "The venerable doctor was accustomed to lead the morning exercises in the chapel every day, and during the exercises in the chapel gave out the notices to the students. The closing exercise was a fervent prayer by the doctor. One morning, after he had read the notices as usual, a student came up with another notice that Prof. Karge's French class would be at nine o'clock that day, instead of 9:30, as usual. Dr. McCosh said it was too late, but the student insisted that Prof. Karge would be much disappointed if the notice was not read. The exercises went on, and the doctor forgot all about the notice. He started to make the final prayer. He prayed for the president of the United States, the members of the cabinet, the senators and representatives, the governor of New Jersey, the mayor and other officials of Princeton, and then came to the professors and instructors in the college. In the meantime Prof. Krage's notice came into his mind and the assembled students were astonished to hear the venerable president say: 'And, O Lord, bless Prof. Karge, whose French class will be held this morning at nine o'clock, instead of at 9:30, as usual.'"

WHALE ON A CABLE.

The Insulation Damaged by the Floundering of the Big Fish.

Submarine cables are usually imbedded in the slimy bottom of the ocean, but at certain points they hang like wire bridges over deep submarine valleys, so that whales and other large inhabitants of the deep may become dangerous to the cable. Once in awhile it is the cable that becomes dangerous to the whales, as recently shown in an accident to the western Brazilian cable. There was some trouble with the wire, and after many futile efforts the seat of the trouble was discovered 76 miles north of Santa Catharina. The repair ship Viking was sent to repair the damage, and began to take up the cable near where the seat of trouble had been located. After the cable proper had been grappled and was taken up on the large drums provided for the purpose it was found that it floated very much easier and was more buoyant than was ordinarily the case. The reason was discovered when in a loop of the cable the carcass of a whale of more than 60 feet in length came up with it. It appears that the whale had become caught under the cable, and, not being able to lift it nor to go forward or back, it suffocated, since it could no more rise to the surface. By its last spasms or attempts to free itself the whale had damaged the cable so that the insulation was rubbed off and the wire became useless. This is the third case of the kind, since a similar case once happened in the Persian gulf and another on the Peruvian coast.

PEACEFUL BY NATURE.

The Egyptian Abhors Warfare, as Did His Fathers Before Him.

The ordinary Egyptian is by instinct utterly opposed to military life. The last thing he wants to do in the world is to fight. He hates the pomp and circumstance of glorious war, and nothing in his nature is appealed to by the idea of strife and combat.

He is a good-tempered, pleasure-loving man, and for 5,000 years his ancestors before him have loathed the clash of steel. Go back as far as you like in Egyptian history and you will never find a trace of the Viking spirit in the inhabitants of the Nile valley. The successful wars of the Pharaohs were waged by mercenaries, and the papyri show that the military calling was always described as pure evil. The records show little delights in battle, but plenty of picturesque contrasts between the horrible miseries endured by the soldier in the field and the pleasant, snug life of the civilian tribe.

The spirit of the old Dane who when he felt death approaching put on his armor, because he would not die like a cow in his house, has no echo in the past or in the present of the true Egyptian.

The Real Thing.

"Yes," said the meek-looking man, "I've no doubt you've had some great hunting experience in your travels abroad."

"I have, indeed."

"Buffalo hunting?"

"Yes."

"And bear hunting?"

"Of course."

"Well, just come round and let my wife take you house hunting and bargain hunting with her. Then you'll begin to know what real excitement is." Washington Times.

TWO SKELETONS.

One Is Over Four Times as Large as the Other.

The largest and smallest skeletons of humanity ever preserved are kept in the museum of the Royal College of Surgeons, in Lincoln's Inn Fields, London, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. One is eight feet four inches in height. The other is less than two feet.

Charles Byrne, the famous Irish giant, who was more generally known as O'Brien, died in 1783, when he was 22 years old. His capacity for liquor was in keeping with his high physical proportions. So keen was his anguish over losing all his property—to wit, a £300 note, that he drank a cask of ale in one day. The day following he was dead.

Byrne had a great dread of becoming a dissecting-room subject. He made a bargain with a fisherman before he died to take his body out into the channel and throw it overboard.

Hunter, the English surgeon, learned of this arrangement, and by paying the fisherman $300 he prevailed upon them to carry out their bargain to the letter, but to attach a rope to the body and drag it up again after it had been immersed. The fishermen served two masters and Hunter got the body.

The tiny skeleton is that of Caroline Crachami, the Sicilian dwarf, who was exhibited in Europe in the early part of the century. The child did not grow after birth, and before she reached her teens she died.

Her body, it is said, was sold to a British surgeon by her parents.

Beside the giant's frame stands one of the boots he wore when he died. The skeleton of the dwarf can be slipped into it as easily as a pipe stem.

A MASCULINE WEAKNESS.

Every Man Carries His Favorite Remedy Always with Him.

It is customary for men to sneer good-naturedly at the physical weakness of the opposite sex, but women would doubtless be surprised could they know how generally the medicinal remedy habit permeates the ranks of their masculine friends. Think over your list of male acquaintances and pick out the few who have no ailments and carry no bottles, powders or preparations. They will be very few indeed, unless your list includes but very few young men, says the New York Herald.

It has been said that every woman knows the best face wash on earth and is willing to part with her secret only on compulsion, but will try anything else suggested by a friend. But men are the most obstinate believers in sovereign remedies. Every man carries at least one remedy in his inside pocket and is willing to unload it on anybody who will listen or dare to test its infallibility. I have known four or five healthy-looking men in a group, not one of whom would be suspected of ever being ill, draw concealed vials or pellets and little unsuspected boxes of pills and astonishingly worded prescriptions from their confidential hiding places, and discourse most learnedly upon their miraculous power.

In every case of this kind there has been at some time, more or less remote, an apparent justification of merit claimed, from which time and henceforth forever that particular individual goes contentedly and even boastingly bound to that medicinal chariot wheel.

OUR DAILY BREAD.

The Kind Most Common Now Was Unknown Last Century.

Much rye bread was eaten in this country in the beginning of the century, and much rye and Indian—a healthful compound that disappeared when stoves superseded the huge brick oven in which the maize ingredient was rendered digestible by being cooked all night. The snowy wheaten loaf, as the staple bread of the land, dates only back to the cultivation of the wheat fields of New York in the early part of this century; and simultaneously there seems to arise a "fashion" of white bread. The using of bread made from anything less than "the best Genesee flour" was thought a mark of poverty. About 1830 there appeared about an even distribution of dyspepsia throughout the northern and eastern states, more especially among those well-to-do people who used only the "best Genesee." One investigator announced that the root of the mischief lay in robbing the wheat of its best elements in the process of milling, and taking away its outer coating. This man was Sylvester Graham—a monomaniac on his own hobby, but he rendered an important service to the science of alimentation, though the epithet "bran bread" was derisively applied to the sort that still bears his name.

TEN AT A BIRTH.

Recorded Cases Which Beat That of the Indiana Farmer's Wife.

One of the best-known physicians in the city, apropos of the case reported in Indiana of the German farmer's wife who presented him with six children of practically the same age, said:

"Even triplets are quit rare, and such cases as this are still more rare; yet instances are recorded in medical annals of the birth of six, seven, eight, nine, and even ten children at one time. It is very rare, however, that any of the children live where there are more than two at a birth, although a case is recorded by Chamison of quintuplets, all of whom survived their baptism for a short period. I heard not long ago of a Texas woman who gave birth to six children, and there is a case in Chicago where four fully-developed children were born, who lived for some time. According to statistics kept by Dr. Churchill, of England, twins occur once in 80 births, but of 37,441 births five cases only were those of triplets.

It Might Have Been Red Ink.

A certain actor who wished to introduce innovations into "Hamlet" proposed to play the part of the Danish prince in a red cloak, which intention he communicated to Sir Henry Irving, who said: "Very well; I do not see anything shocking in that." "But is it right?" inquired the interlocutor. "I dare say it is," replied Irving. "Red was the color of mourning of the royal house of Denmark." "But how do you get over this?" persisted the other, quoting the words: "'Tis not alone my inky coat, good mother." "Well," replied the Shakespearean, calmly, "I suppose there is such a thing as red ink, is there not?"

H. A. Englehart,
Chairman Democratic County Committee.
Ebensburg, August 10th, 1896.

A CIRCULAR has been issued by Secretary John D. Worman, of the Democratic society of Pennsylvania, announcing that the general assembly of the Democratic societies of Pennsylvania will meet at Erie on Wednesday morning, August 26. He says the meeting will take the form of a grand state ratification of Bryan and Sewall.

ASKED in New York, a few days ago, what the issue of the pending contest is, Millionaire Mark Hanna, the head of the Republican party, replied: "The only issue in this campaign is the election of McKinley." From Hanna's point of view that, no doubt, is correct He is one of the syndicate of millionaires who hold a mortgage on the Republican presidential candidate. More truthfully and plainly stated Hanna's reply means: The only issue in this campaign with some of us is to realize on our mortgage, which can alone be accomplished by McKinley's election.

CHAIRMAN ROBERT E. WRIGHT, of the Democratic state Central committee, has forwarded his letter of resignation as chairman of the committee to Secretary Matt Savage. Secretary Savage is authorized to present the letter at the meeting of the committee, which will be held in Harrisburg, August 13. Mr Wright is right in resigning the chairmanship, but he should not have been so long before doing so. In his letter, which is a lengthy one, Mr. Wright attacks the Democratic platform in detail and it is an insult to the Democrats of the state. His inclinations are with the gold-bugs, not his party, and he is perfectly welcome to go with them. The Democratic masses can spare him.

ON Wednesday evening, William J. Bryan, the next president of these United States, formally opened the campaign at Madison Square Garden, in New York City. The candidate for president, William J. Bryan and Arthur Sewall candidate for vice president were formally notified of their nomination in presence of the largest crowd of people that ever congregated in that building. In the presence of the vast throng, Mr. Bryan accepted the nomination and in a speech lasting one hour and forty minutes announced the principles of the platform and in words of burning eloquence that carried conviction to the vast throng that had gathered there to greet the nominees, he gave his views on the great questions that are now before the people. The reception was an enthusiastic ovation and the tremendous outpouring of the Democracy is a wholesome indication of the greeting he will receive in November.

An interesting annual report, has been prepared by State Forestry Commissioner Rothrock, one of the most valuable features of which is the information as to the forest fires duaing the past year.

During 1895 about 225,000 acres of woodland were burned over, causing a loss of valuable timber aggregating fully $1,000,000. About 5,000 men were engaged a total of 250 days in extinguishing the fires, representing a wage account to the farming community of about $45,000. Twenty buildings were destroyed, two men and five horses and cattle lost their lives in the fires. Much cut and sawed timber was also burned.

Upon these figures Prof. Rothrock bases his advocacy of a bill which has been prepared for the consideration of the next legislature, providing for the appointment of fire wardens whose duty shall consist of directing the work of extinguishing fires as well as enforcing the law against those who carlessly or maliciousness set fire to the forests.

Prof. Rothrock further holds that the question of pure water, which is agitating the larger cities, could be easily settled by the establishment of forests, which retain and purify the rainfall.

Certainly this object of forest preservation is becoming more and more important each year and soon must receive the earnest consideration of the lawmakers of the state.

THE London Financial News takes the following view of the condition of things in this country.

"The financial situation in the United States is very serious. The condition of affairs in the United States congress demands the immediate attention of British financiers and statesmen. The trade of the world is now in our hands, but it will not long remain there if the United States goes to a bimetallic basis with free and unlimited coinage of silver.

"With the addition of silver to the volume of money, everything in America would take on a new face; labor and industry would gain new life. The grip of the gold standard on the products of the world would be loosened and prices would rise. Great Britain would loose her markets in South America, Asia and Europe, and American ships would not be long in capturing the carrying trade of the world.

"British creditors must now apply themselves quickly to the American money problem. The American people are now thoroughly aroused and educated on the power and use of money, and made desperate by debt and business depression, they are forcing free silver as the main issue.

"Great Britain need fear no injury to her trade or investments if the Republican party can force 'protection tariff' as the main issue in the coming presidential campaign, but if free silver dominates the American mind and carries at the polls, it will bring about a change in England that will be ruinous from its suddenness and severity. The damage that can be done British manufacturers by a protective tariff is slight compared with the disasters that would be entailed by a change from a single gold to a complete bimetallic standard.

"The success of free coinage will bring down the rate of interest on money, and cause an immediate rise in the price of all commodities. When silver becomes primary money the American mines will pour their products into the mints, and a new era similar to that produced by the issue of greenbacks during the civil war will begin. Gold will leave the banks and enter into competition with silver in the avenues of trade, and the manufactories of the United States which have been shut down or crippled since 1892, will again resume their fight for English markets.

"It matters not to Great Britain which party succeeds if the gold standard is maintained, but either of the old parties or a new party which goes into power pledged to free coinage will be inimical and prejudicial to English manufactories and trade.

"The American people are massing now on free silver. When that issue comes fairly before the American people, England will regret her apathy and adherence to the single gold standard."

Does the farmer realize that he is practically paying three times as much taxes in 1896 as he did in 1873, measured in cereals, fruit and vegetables, the chief products of the country? In June, 1873, Pennsylvania red wheat was quoted in the Philadelphia markets at $1.60 to $1.65 a bushel; to-day the same grade of wheat is quoted at 61½ cents a bushel. This year it would take about 50 bushels of wheat to pay a $30 tax bill; then only about 18 bushels would have been required to pay the same bill.

Twenty-five years ago mortgages on country farm lands were comparatively few. To-day it is safe to estimate that there are between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 of them on record!

Necesities are cheaper now, it is true, and a dollar will buy more than it used to; but, before the era of cheaper goods, farm products had fallen and the farm had to be mortgaged. Every Farmer who has been in business twenty to thirty years knows this. In 1873 forty bushels of wheat paid the interest on a $1,000 mortgage. In 1896 it takes nearly 120 bushels. While goods are cheaper, the rate of interest is practically the same.

It would seem that overproduction was not a condition now, for, though the population has largely increased, the world's wheat crop for 1895 was less than that of 1873. Then why this great change since 1873? It is the duty of every farmer to inquire whether the present condition has not been brought about by the excessive protective taxation, gold monometallism and a wrong financial system. The comparison between the conditions of 1896 and 1873 show unmistakably that the farmer under the gold and silver standard was prosperous, while under the present single standard he can hardly make ends meet. These are practical lessons that no amount of theory can explain away

WHILE silver was honored it cost the government nothing to maintain the gold reserve in the national treasury. Up to October 14, 1891, not a dollar in gold was drawn out of the treasury in payment of treasury notes, it being understood they were payable in gold or silver, at the option of the government. On October 14, 1891, Secretary Foster under Harrison's administration, instructed the assistant treasurer of the United States at Boston, that the silver treasury notes were payable in gold Then the gold raid on the treasury began and since that date $76,000,000 of these silver treasury notes have been paid in gold, and $262,000,000 of bonds have been issued to keep up this gold reserve—in other words to maintain the single gold standard.

THERE is something radically wrong with our financial system when the bankers of New York guarantee, as they have done, that there will be no raid on the gold reserve for a specified time. Better have a financial system that they cannot manipulate.

DURING the recent hot spell there were nearly 1,100 cases of sunstroke in New York City, 141 of which terminated fatally.

Washington, Letter.

Washington, Aug. 7th, 1896.—Senator Jones, Chairman of the Democratic national committee, found himself called upon very early in the game to pay the penalty of prominence in a national campaign. In addition to having been maliciously lied about and misquoted he has been directly attacked and charged with mismanaging the campaign. It isn't Senator Jones that these people are after injuring, but Bryan and Sewall, whose prospects are looking entirely too bright to please their enemies As to the misquotation of his interview concerning the Southern populists, Senator Jones said before going to New York, where he will probably remain until after the national committee meeting and the big Bryan and Sewall notification meeting, next week: "I did not say that Mr. Bryan would not accept the populist nomination, for I have no authority to say that. I did not say that as a general rule the southern populists were not a creditable class. On the contrary, I said that most of them were patriotic men who were working for a cause; that they were populists because they had believed they could promote the cause best through a new party; and that now they would support Bryan, because it was shown that their patriotic objects could be attained only through his election. That is what I said of the southern populists as a rule. I said there were some who were populists merely for their personal advancement; some who had become populists through selfish, and not patriotic motives. I spoke of these as the exceptional class who would not support Bryan. I said that as a rule the Populists in the South would follow the patriotic course and support Bryan; that there were some who, for selfish motives, would not do so, but would prefer to have McKinley elected."

The charge of mismanagement against Senator Jones falls of its own weight, for the very good reason that there has been practically nothing to manage and will not be until the meeting of the national committee in New York City on the 11th inst., when the membership of the executive committee will be announced and the general plan of the campaign mapped out and adopted. This charge was accompanied by a demand that Senator Gorman's services be requisitioned. That really explains one of the main objects of those who made the charge to upset the extremely cordial relations existing between Senator Jones and Gorman, thus depriving the national committee of the advice which Mr. Gorman has promised to give during the campaign in lieu of accepting the chairmanship of the executive committee which was offered him.

The gold Democrats of New York may be quite the patriots they claim to be, but since it became known in Washington that they tried to make a deal with Mark Hanna to cast their votes for the McKinley electoral ticket in exchange for Republican votes in the New York legislature for one of their number as senator to succeed David B. Hill, they are classed as plain, everyday disgruntled politicians, more bent upon getting office than upon defending principles.

Unless all the reports from W., Va are wrong, which is not at all likely, that state will certainly give Bryan and Sewall a large majority. Among the West Virginians in Washington this week was chairman Chilton of the Democratic state committee. He says it is only a question of how large a majority the state will give the Democratic ticket, as the Republicans are flocking to the support of Bryan and free coinage—in one county alone 722 Republicans have joined Bryan and Sewall clubs.

The size of the Democratic majority in Alabama indicates with unerring certainty that the most of the populists in the South will return to the Democratic party, thus realizing the prediction made when Bryan was nominated. It also increased the difficulty of Tom Watson putting up a claim for Democratic recognition which will receive any attention The south will be practically solid for Bryan and Sewall, although Maryland may be lost on account of the moneyed and corporate influences of Baltimore being thrown for McKinley and the gold standard. Big Land Swindlers in Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, August 10.—An alleged land swindle, by which residents of Pittsburg lost at least $100,000, has been exposed, and requisition papers have been issued for the arrest of J. F. Van Smith, charged with being one of the principals in the fraudlent transactions. More than a hundred persons who bought land from Van Smith and built homes for themselves are without title to their property and are liable to be dispossessed. The swindle was by the use of forged deeds for western land, which, it is charged, were exchanged for Allegheny county land, and the latter was sold or mortgaged for cash.

Twenty Deaths in the Storm.

Detroit, Michigan, August 11.—Four distinct storms visited this section of the country during the past 24 hours. In the Detroit River four people were drowned, and a half a dozen are missing. The yacht Corsair capsized off Belle Isle and one of the crew was drowned. A boat containing three people was swamped off Windmill Point, and only one of them escaped.

At Benton Harbor four men were drowned while attempting to swim ashore and all up the east coast line are reports of casualities on the water, and the number of deaths will no doubt exceed 20. The property damage by the four storms will be over $250,000.

Imprisoned in a Burning Mine.

Kankake, Ill., Aug. 9.—Fifteen miners are imprisoned in the burning mine at Clarke City. The main shaft of the Gardner Wilmington Coal company was destroyed by fire Friday evening and forty miners were imprisoned. Before the upper works were totally destroyed, however, twenty-five of the men escaped. But little news can be obtained from the mine, as the telegraph lines were badly damaged by lightning. Clarke City is a mining town in the Braidwood district and has a population of about 600. The shafts are about 100 feet deep, but it is reported that the air shafts are in a bad shape. The miners are principally Italians and English.

Robbed a Fellow Guest.

Utica, N. Y., August 8.—Three weeks ago a young Philadelphian, Albert E. Foote, came to the village of Hamilton to spend his vacation. Soon after his arrival there a young woman named Miss Martha Smith, of Norwich, Conn., also came to the town and was entertained at the same house. Foote stole from her room five finger rings, valued at $400, and a $500 pair of earings. He went to New York, pawned the jewels for $213, returned to Utica, was caught and has confessed. The pawn tickets were found under his hat band.

Negroes Killed in Arkansas.

Texarkana, Ark., Aug. 9.—The war Polk county has broken out in earnest, and as a result of the first battle three negroes are dead, eight wounded and many have been run out of the county by the whites. Several negroes have passed through this place who were forced to leave the county, and they bring news of a pretty bad condition of affairs.

The trouble is between white and black laborers employed on the grading works of the Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf railway, near Horatio, Ark. The white laborers are determined that the negroes shall not work on the road, and are being backed up by citizens of the county, who have armed themselves for the purpose of running the negroes out.

Thursday night a lot of whites, composed of Italian, Swede and Hungarian laborers, together with a number of natives, made a raid on a camp occupied by negro laborers, and three of the latter were killed outright, several others wounded and a number fled in terror. The names of the killed are not known. Several of the leaders of the raid have been arrested.

Fatal Trolley Accident.

Columbia, Pa., August 10—Three persons were instantly killed and fifteen injured, some it is believed fatally, by the derailing of a trolley car on the Columbia and Donegal Electric road last night, just outside the borough limits of Columbia. The dead are: Adam Foehlinwer, motorman of the car; Henry Smith and an unknown person. At least one, and probably two of the injured may die.

The place where the accident occurred is at the base of a steep incline, alongside of which runs a high embankment. The car was loaded with passengers, and as it reached the incline it began to slip, owing to wet tracks. The motorman applied the brakes, and at that moment the gear wheel broke, rendering the brakes useless. The car dashed along at a terrific rate of speed, while within the terror stricken passengers sat and stood stupefied with fear. The car upon reaching the bottom took a sharp turn and was thrown up against the embankment, throwing out nearly all the passengers, with the above result.

Struck by Lightning.

A great wind and rainstorm, accompanied by most terrific lightning, passed over a portion of the southern end of Westmoreland county at an early hour on Monday morning, doing great damage. The new glass plant near Mt. Pleasant was struck by lightning and five men working on the walls were hurled to the ground. All were more or less injured. The injured are Jim Brown and John Sweezy, hod-carriers, colored; and George Karbaugh, David Slovaker, and Harry Tozier They were conveyed to their boarding houses in an unconscious condition. It is expected that they will all survive. The glass plant was badly wrecked, the main stack having been split from top to bottom. The Polish Catholic Church in the vicinity was also struck and great damage was done. The wind blew down frail houses in its course and numberless trees were uprooted.

Mosquitoes Depopulating a Town.

Arlington, N. J., August 8.—There is a plague of mosquitoes here. Many people have closed their homes and gone to the seaside and mountain resorts until the frost kills the pests. Last week seven families moved away permanently, and this week four more have gone.

No one undertakes, unless urgently necessary, to venture out after dark. For two weeks the streets at night have presented the appearance of a plague-stricken city.

No one living here recalls a similar state of affairs. Mosquitoes are always plentiful in summer but they never before succeeded in getting into the houses as at present. Every known remedy has been tried, and the best are only of temporary value. Canopies are of little use. Unless there is some cessation in the nuisance many more families will leave the town in a few days.

Famous Gold Bar Found.

San Diego, Cal., August 10.—A special to a local paper gives a sensational sequel to the famous gold bar robbery which occurred at Ensenada nearly a year and a half ago and which caused the imprisonment of James E. Barrett and Allan Pratt for sixteen months. After his release Barrett came to this city and on the fifth instant left here for Ensenada.

The Mexicans were warned by detectives who were on the watch, and this morning, when Barrett, accompanied by three men, set out to dig up the bar they were followed by a party of guards with whom was Governor Sanguinese. The gold seekers found themselves surrounded and covered by rifles. Barrett collapsed with fear. At Governor Sanguine's demand he disclosed the spot where the bar was hidden. The bar is worth $12,000.

Shot Through the Head.

Pittsburg. August 9.—Mrs. Nellie Snowden, the reputed wife of Henry Snowden, was shot through the head today by William Campbell. The bullet entered between the eyes and passed directly through the brain, and the doctors say she cannot possibly recover. Mrs. Snowden, is a white woman, aged twenty-two. Her husband is colored and is about fifty years old. Campbell is a colored man aged thirty-six years. Campbell had been a frequent visitor at the house on South Seventeenthstreet and during the absence of Snowden tried to make love to Mrs. Snowden. It was her repulsing his attentions to-day which caused the shooting. Campbell made his escape and the entire detective force of the city is now on the lookout for him.

SUNDAY is said to have been the hottest of the year, and a frightful death list is the result of its withering blast in many of the cities. The past week, it may be said, was almost a record breaker and a large number of deaths resulted. Fatalities on Sunday are reported in the cities named as follows: Philadelphia, 21, and hundreds prostrated; Baltimore, 15; Albany, 3 deaths and 1 rendered insane; Cleveland, at the Ohio National Guard encampment, 13 soldiers and 1 laborer; St. Louis, Saturday and Sunday, 13; same city, 98 in nine days; Chicago, 12; Louisville, 97.

STILL TALK OF WAR.

A Havana Paper Expects Trouble With Us.

SAYS THAT SPAIN IS TOO PROUD

To Merely Withdraw Her Minister From the United States—Nothing but Blood Will Wipe Out Our Continued Insults A Hot Editorial.

HAVANA, Aug. 12.—La Lucha has an editorial commenting upon the opinion expressed by Senor Segasta, the Spanish Liberal, in an interview that the cortes ought to vote financial credits for the government, as he believed in the possibility of a war between Spain and the United States. La Lucha says that it is natural to suppose, in view of affairs actually happening which are neither honorable nor satisfactory and which are even humiliating, that a moment may arise when Spain will have to break off relations with the nation acting and conducting its affairs in such a manner and availing itself of futile pretexts for doing so.

It is a good system of politics, this paper says, for Americans, but it is unpleasant to Spain's interests and sense of honor. A logical deduction from the situation, the article says, would be war between Spain and the United States Spain would not be content to withdraw her representative from Washington as an act of protest. The national pride would compel more adequate measures, or popular sentiment would prove a source of probable danger to the highest institutions.

The La Lucha believes that whatever may be the result, Spain will take serious steps in view of the actual circumstances not only of the rebellion in Cuba, but of a war made with impunity by material aid coming from the United States.

GREEDY GREAT BRITAIN.

A Report That She Has Seized a Mexican Island.

CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 12.—It is reported that a British man-of-war has seized the Mexican island of Clarion, which belongs to the state of Colima, and that there will be a coaling station established there.

The report is given circumstantially in the newspapers, but is not yet confirmed. It is also asserted that the English have planned to seize the islands of Revillagigedo, on the Pacific coast.

In view of the present amicable relations between Mexico and England and the maintenance of the Monroe doctrine by the United States the reports appear incredible, although affirmed in the press.

ITALY IS AROUSED

Lynching of Italians In Louisiana May Make Trouble.

ROME, Aug. 13.—The Popolo Romano recalling the lynching of Italians at New Orleans in 1891, and referring to the lynching in Louisiana of three Italians on Sunday last, urges the Italian government to call the attention of the European powers to the strange position of foreigners in America and to promote the collective action of the powers.

The Don Chisciotte says that a "repetition of the horrible events obliges the Italian government to demand satisfaction, in order to prevent the authorities of other countries from tolerating attacks upon Italians."

DENVER, Aug. 12.—Most of the large cities in the United States are well represented in the eleventh annual convention of the Retail Butchers' Protective association, which has assembled here.

Bank Failure In Duluth.

DULUTH, Aug. 12.—The Security Bank of Duluth, capital $100,000, one of the leading banks of the city, has closed its doors. Heavy withdrawals of depositors and impossibility of making speedy collections is given as the cause.

Bank Failure In New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The Murray Hill bank has failed. The bank is one of the oldest state institutions in this city. The deposits amount to about $1,250,000, and it is believed that they will be paid in full.

The Biggest Fool at Large.

Is the individual who persistently neglects his health, and the means of preserving and restoring it. Many persons who are not constitutional idiots do this. They are genuine objects of compassion as well as censure. A failure of appetite, loss of sleep and flesh, impaired digestion, an uncertain condition of the bowels and symptoms of billiousness are so many warnings of the approach of disease. To disregard them is abject folly, which offended nature in due time punishes severely, if not fatally. That genuine and thoroughly reliable preventive of bodily miseStomach Bitters, will, if resorted to in time, avert those disorders, to the removal of which it is also fully adequate. Among these are chronic indigestion, liver complaint, kidney troubles, constipation, nervousness, rheumatism and malaria.

Determination

Is a wonder-worker—proved to be unusually so in this

Shelf-Emptying Sale

—the way we went at the prices was an example, and the way we're keeping at them is another—and there have been other examples of determination, on the part of the buying public, some of them having come long distances to get the benefit of this unusual Dry Goods distribution—and more will.

For Your Protection.—Catarrah "Cures" or Tonics for Catarrah in liquid form to be taken internally, usually contain either Mercury or Iodide of Potassa, or both, which are injurious if too long taken. Catarrah is a local, not a blood disease, caused by a sudden change to cold or damp weather. It starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat. Cold in the head causes excessive flow of mucus, and if repeatedly neglected, the results of catarrah will follow; severe pain in the head, a roaring sound in the ears, bad breadth, and oftentimes an offensive discharge. The remedy should be quick to ally inflammation and heal the membrane. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles and contains no mercury nor any injurious drug. Price, 50 cents.

—The large barn on the farm of Jerrie J. Shafer, in Jenner township, Somerset county, was struck by lightning a few days ago and totally consumed. The loss will reach several thousand dollars. The live stock was taken out in safety.

—This campaign will be a "buggy" affair. The 16 to 1 men are silver bugs, the prohibitionists are water bugs, the woman sufferagists are lady bugs, the Republicans are gold bugs, and the men in favor of another Democratic ticket are humbugs.

—W. Scott Miller, chief train dispatcher at Altoona yard, died on Friday from a a tumor on the brain. He was in the 49th year of his age, and served during the civil war in the artillery branch of the service. He leaves a wife and three children.

—Hon. Michael Fitzharris, of Gallitzin, has purchased the furniture and fixtures of the Ward House, at Tyrone, from John T. Rowley, for $8,000, and will take charge of the big hotel as soon as the necessary papers transferring the lease can be made out.

—The ravages of the army worm in New York state will result in loss to farmers of $350,000. In Massachusetts the damage to crops is estimated at $200,000. The extreme hot weather of the past two weeks has not been favorable for the spread of the worms. They cannot endure the persistent intensity of the sunshine.

—Leo Stevens made an ascent in his balloon at Hecla Park, Centre county, last Thursday and when about 200 feet up the balloon collapsed and according to the Daily News Stevens struck the ground with a "sickening thud." He was badly stunned but quickly revived. On the way down his parachute partly opened, thus saving his life.

—Elmer Wise and John Hellstrom, both of Johnstown, are under arrest on the charge of arson. The building burned was that of the Unique Manufacturing company, which was destroyed on the night of April 22, 1895. Wise alleges that he was hired by Hellstrom, who was manager and part owner of the plant at the time, to set it on fire.

—The Coudersport Democrat says that all the tanneries in that region are overstocked with bark. This is accounted for by the fact that much less bark was used this year than usual, owing to the tanneries being shut down for some time. The annual supply of hemlock bark is kept up to the top nock by the cutting of timber to supply the great saw mills with logs.

—On Saturday the school directors of Gallitzin township, met and selected the following teachers for the coming school term: Miss Mollie Mullen for Dawson school; Miss Agnes Wendroth for High Bridge; Miss Ella V. Dunegan for Amsbry; Miss Josie Lloyd for Mountain; Miss Mary Gillen for Delaney primary, and Miss Eva Durbin for Delaney grammar school.

—Persons owning land are in duty bound to cut and destroy all Canada thistles found growing on their premises. The legal penalty for non-compliance with this provision of law is from $5 to $20. It is the duty of the constables, road supervisors and street commissioners to see that all Canada thistles are destroyed, or to enforce the penalty against the owners of the land.

—The Ebensburg borough school directors met on Wednesday night and selected the same corps of teachers for the ensuing term that taught at the last, as follows: Room No. 1, Miss Allie Lloyd; room No. 2, Miss Myra Richardson; room No. 3, Miss Maggie Shenkle; room No. 4, Miss Frances McKenrick; room No. 5, Miss Annie Jones. The salaries remain the same as last year.

—Jos. Enders, of Saulsburg, Huntingdon county, got struck by lightning during the storm on Friday and is not expected to recover. He was riding home from the picnic ground near McAlevy's Fort when the lightning struck him, passing from his head along the right side of his body to the ground. He was found insensible on the road by a neighbor shortly afterwards, and a physician summoned.

—It is reported by an exchange that an old Indiana county farmer received an invitation the other day to a golden wedding. "Well," he said, after reading the invitation the second or third time, "you don't ketch me going to no sich frolic as that. Them dern gold bugs can 'tend their own weddins', I don't perpose to pay tribute to Wall street by ennv sich consarned nonsense as that. Silver weddins' is good enough for me."

—Rev. S. H. Deitzel is a resident of Pleasant Unity, Centre county. Last winter he struck his knee on the door of a sink and received a slight bruise as a result. Nothing was thought of it until a few months after when symptoms of rheumatism were observed. Growing worse he went to a Philadelphia hospital where an examination was made. It was found that cancer had set in and to save his life the leg has been amputated.

—A man, from letters found on his person supposed to be P. Fremire, of Kittanning, Pa., was found dead on the public road, near the residence of Henry Varner, in Jackson township, on Monday about noon. The man was a stranger and had been in the neighborhood selling a patent fence. He was about 60 years of age and his death was due to heart failure. His remains were taken in charge by the poor authorities and interred in the Headrick cemetery.

—During a heavy storm the barn on the Nathan Simpson farm, in White township, Indiana county, was struck by lightning and burned with all its contents except the live stock and a buggy. The loss is quite heavy and there is no insurance. During the same storm the house of Miss Emma Barber, at Dixonville, was badly damaged by an electric bolt. On the evening of July 31st the big barn belonging to Samuel Weddell, near Tunneliton, was burned, the fire being caused by spontaneous combustion.

—Another pest has appeared on the farms in Centre and Clarion counties, which, although yet not in large numbers, is causing the farmers considerable anxiety. It is the "Idaho Devil," a big headed insect which travels in the grain and pasture fields, doing much damage. It is even harder to destroy than the army worm, and when it once gets a start in a field it is almost impossible to head it off. The insects have not been found in this section for over two years, when they appeared in great numbers, doing great damage.

—Herbert Dietrick, living near Williamsport, was out on his bicycle a few days ago when he discovered a blacksnake lying in the road. He dismounted and attacked the snake with the intention of tramping it to death. The reptile looked at the matter in a different light. It turned on Mr. Dietrick and wrapped itself around him. He shouted lustily for help and a farmer responded. The snakes body had to be cut in three pieces before the coils relaxed. Mr. Dietrick is now in bed suffering from nervous prostration. The snake was six feet in length.

—A mysterious disease has broken out among the cattle in Centre county, and it is causing the farmers considerable loss and worriment. No one has yet been able to determine what the complaint is, and all efforts to cure or check it have met with failure. The disease spreads at an alarming rate, and already over twenty have died from its effects. In not a single instance have they been known to live more than twenty-four hours after showing any signs of the disease. They at first become very lame, and their legs begin to swell, gradually extending over the whole body.

—A nice question of law arose in the Butler county court last week over the disposition of the license of the late W. H. Jellison, of Petrolia. Jellison was granted a license at June term of court and had taken out his papers and paid his license fee, ready to begin business on the first day of July. On the 29th day of June Jellison died and last week a petition was handed up in court to have the license transferred to Chas. Gregg, of Butler. Judge Greer refused the transfer on the grounds that since Jellison died before his license went into effect there was no license to transfer. The case will be held until September 12, when Judge Greer will hand down an opinion.

—The new reservoir at Kittanning Point is a complete success. The residents of Altoona from this time forward shall have an ample supply for all purposes. These facts are now clearly demonstrated by the conditions that can be viewed at the site of our watter supply. There is now in both reservoirs over 425,000,000 gallons of water, and at present there is 2,000,000 gallons passing over the spillway of the new reservoir. It is now shown that without a single day of rainfall the water supply at Kittanning Point would last the city for 141 days—almost five months—allowing the use of 3,000,000 daily. This is satisfactory news to our residents, who for years dreaded the heated summer season with its drought and consequent limited water supply.—Altoona Times.

—Prothonotary S. W. Davis, has announced the following cases for trial on the civil list at September term.: C. & C. Coal & Coke company vs. Stiles et al.; King vs. Wissinger; Krueger vs. Boyle; Gessler vs. Giles; McGee vs. Conway; Pfoff vs. Weakland; Hillegass vs. Bellstein et al.; Stitz vs. Delozier; use Zentmyer vs. Glunt; Westover vs. Tonkins; Witt vs. Boyd; Am. Road Mch. Co. vs. Cushing; Monroe vs. Gallitzin Supply Co.; Leahey vs. Maxwell; Pringle vs. McDonnell Admr.; use Johnstown vs. McDonnell Admr.; Little vs. McVey et al.; Thomas vs. Western Ins. Co.; Robertson vs. Vinton Colliery Co.; Foust vs. Zolner; Latimer Carpet Co. vs. Miller; Yeager vs. Patton Borough; Shoemaker vs. Kring; Kline vs. Presby. Church, Hastings; Schlereth et al. vs. Gray et al.

Farmers' Encampment.

From August 17 to 21, inclusive, the Pennsylvania Railroad company will sell, for the above occasion, round-trip tickets to Mount Gretna and return at rate of one fare for the round trip, from principal stations between East Liberty and Bryn Mawr, on the Northern Central railway north of and including Lutherville, and on the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad division. These tickets will be valid for return passage until August 21, inclusive.

For information in regard to train service and special rates application should be made to ticket agents.

Burned to Death.

A 12-year-old daughter of David Lute, who lives at India, West Wheatfield township, was burned to death on Sabbath morning last. She was engaged in lighting a fire in the cook stove, and was pouring oil from a can on the smouldering ember. The oil in the can took fire and the vessel exploded. The burning contents were scattered over the child's scant clothing and in a moment she was enveloped in flames. She ran screaming from the house and threw herself upon the ground in a vain effort to extinguish the flames, but death soon came and ended her awful sufferings. George, a little 8-year-old brother, while endeavoring to quench the fire on his sister's clothing, was seriously, but not fatally burned.—Indiana Messenger.

Bryan in Cambria.

When the train carrying Mr. Bryan and party pulled into Johnstown on Tuesday he was greeted by one of the largest crowds that had ever assembled at that station. The train stopped short of the station and there was a mad rush of the crowd down the tracks to the rear car. Ex-Congressman Kerr presented Mr. Bryan and Mr. Bland, both of whom were roundly cheered. Neither spoke, but Mr. Bryan shook hands with a large number of persons. At Cresson about 500 people greeted the train and cheered the nominee, with whom many shook hands. Ex-Governor Hogg, of Texas, who is also en route to New York, was discovered in a forward car of the train and Mr. Bryan invited him to his coach just before Cresson was reached.

Coming this Way.

A company of Altoona and Pittsburg capitalists has been formed for the purpose of connecting Altoona and Ashville, Cambria county, by an electric railroad nine miles in length. The company has petitioned council for the use of Sixteenth and Eighteenth streets and will operate two lines, one to be known as the Altoona Mountain Spring & Ashville Railway company's road, on Eighteenth street, and the other as the road of the Altoona Suburban Traction company, on Sixteenth street.

A park is to be laid out at the foot of the mountains, west of the city, and as the road itself will run through a picturesque country and will make Ashville and other Cambria county towns more accessible, it will no doubt be successful and popular. There is said to be plenty of capital back of the venture at Chicago. Councils is said to be the only thing in the way of an early beginning of the work on the road.—Altoona Merror.

Last of the Season.

The last of this season's series of popular twelve-day excursions to the seashore via the Pennsylvania railroad will leave Pittsburg on August 20th.

The reason for the great favor in which these excursions have been held is easy to see. The rate of $10 for the round trip is phenomenally low, considering the distance and the high character of the service, the limit of twelve days just fits the time set apart for the average vacation, and the dates of the excursions have been most conveniently adjusted. There is also the widest field for choice in the selection of the resort. Atlantic City, Cape May, Sea Isle City, and Ocean City are the choiciest of the Atlantic coast resorts, and any one of them may be visited under this arrangement.

A special train of parlor cars and day coaches will leave Pittsburg on the above mentioned day at 8:55 A. M., and connect at Philadelphia with special train via the new Delaware River Bridge route, landing passengers at Atlantic City in twelve hours from Pittsburg; or passengers for Atlantic City may spend the night in Philadelphia and proceed to destination by regular trains from Broad Street station or Market Street warf the following day. Passengers for the other points above named will use regular trains from Market Street warf the following day.

Tickets will be sold for regular trains leaving Pittsburg at 4:30 and 8:10 P. M., from all stations at which they stop, and from stations from which regular connection is made with them. These trains have Pullman sleeping cars attached and arrive in Philadelphia next morning, whence passengers may proceed to the shore on any any regular train that day.

Tickets will be sold from the stations at rates named below:

	Rate.	Train leaves.
Pittsburg	$10.00	8:55 A. M.
Johnstown	9.25	11:10 A. M.
Hastings	9.25	6:48 P. M.

*Altoona	8.00	12:45 P. M.

Barn Burned.

On Saturday afternoon about three o'clock, flames suddenly burst forth from the barn of Isaac J. Hughes, in Summerhill township, and soon spread all over the building. There was no one at the barn at the time and Mr. Hughes, who was working in an oatsfield near by, hurried to the doomed structure and with difficulty succeeded in getting his horses out and also some pigs. Two calves and seven hogs perished in the flames. The barn also contained all of this years' crop of wheat, rye, and hay, about 20 bushels of old rye, about 30 bushels of oats, several pieces of bacon, a two-horse wheel cultivator, sleds, sleigh and a number of farming impliments.

The fire is supposed to have originated from spontaneous combustion caused by damp hay, as there was no fire about the barn previously and there was no lightning.

The barn was built about forty years ago, was 40x60 feet and was in a good state of preservation.

—William Johnston, of Rochester Mills, Indiana county, thought he saw a hawk sitting on his barn. He shot it and found it to be a carrier pigeon which carried the following message dated Cuba, July 12, 1896; "We arrived safe. Maggie is out of money. Please send some immediately." There was no clue to the destination of the bird. It had probably stopped to rest when a cruel fate ended its mission.

BRYAN IN NEW YORK.

He and Sewall to Be Notified Tonight.

TWO RECEPTIONS HELD TODAY.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Gave One This Morning and Mrs. Bryan One This Afternoon—Continual Ovations All the Way East of Harrisburg.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The presidential and vice presidential candidates of the Democratic party will be formally notified at Madison Square Garden tonight.

At 11 o'clock today Mr Bryan and his wife held a reception on the Fifth avenue stoop of the Windsor hotel and received the people, but did not shake hands with them, his arm and hand being tired and sore. His voice is also in bad condition and he was not able to make any remarks, but will speak this evening.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon Mrs. R P. Bland and Mrs. Bryan will receive the women of New York at the Bartholdi hotel. Mr. Bryan rested all the afternoon.

His speech is finished and will be read from manuscript. After the meeting at the garden he will speak from the balcony of the Barthodi. Mr. and Mrs. Bland, Mrs. Bryan and Mrs. Stone of Missouri will occupy a box at the Madison Square meeting.

William Jennings Bryan stepped upon the soil of the Empire state last night for the first time since his nomination for the presidency of the Democratic national convention at Chicago. It was practically a step into the avowed section of opposition to his candidacy; an opposition not on party lines, but said to exist within the party under whose emblems he looks for victory in November.

If, however, the ordeal was one that would make nervous the average man, its effect upon Mr. Bryan was not, to the observer, of that character, when Mr. Bryan stepped from the train he grasped the hand of Senator Jones, chairman of the Democratic national committee.

Awaiting the party at Jersey City were a big crowd, and among them Chairman Jones, Vice Presidential Nominee Sewall, Treasurer St. John and National Committeeman Tomlinson of Indiana.

The policemen had a hard fight to get the party to the ferryboats through the crowd. Mrs. Bryan went on the first boat and the rest of the party followed on the next.

When the boat reached the dock in New York Captain Cross with a cordon of police held the crowd aboard the boat for a few minutes while Mr Bryan, Mr. Sewall and the remainder of the party entered a carriage in waiting. When they got outside the ferry gates they found at least 500 more people awaiting, and although the police made all diligent efforts to allow the carriage to proceed, it was stopped several times, the last time being when the horses, annoyed or scared by the applause and shouting, balked. Beside Mr. Bryan and Mr. Sewall, Chairman Jones and Mr. St. John occupied the carriage.

The national chairman became a little frightened at the behavior of the horses and left the carriage. The remainder of the party sat quietly until the animals were ready to proceed. At Mr. St. John's house, on Thirty-fourth street, there was another gathering of citizens, who applauded vociferously. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Bryan showed much fatigue after their long journey.

On the way from Harrisburg crowds were at the various stations and enthusiastically cheered Mr. Bryan, who shook hands with many and bowed, but could not be induced to speak, as he was somewhat hoarse, and wished to save his voice for the notification meeting.

There were enthusiastic, but brief receptions at Philadelphia, Trenton and Newark.

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE

A Meeting Held and Senator Gorman's Plans Adopted.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The Democratic national committee has been in session with Senator Jones in the chair. Discussion immediately arose as to the selection of a place for headquarters for the committee. There was a little discussion and then the matter was laid aside while Senator Gorman offered a resolution that the chair should appoint a committee of 25 to be known as the executive committee, a committee of 25 to be known as the finance committee and a committee of nine to be known as the campaign committee, the chairman, Senator Jones, to be ex officio member of each committee. The resolution further recited that the campaign committee should be allowed to select its chairman from either its own members or from some outside source, and that they might also select an advisory committee from some outside sources.

The resolutions were adopted without dissent and Senator Gorman followed them up with this resolution:

"Resolved, That the campaign committee when appointed, shall, in conjunction with the chairman of the national committee, select the permanent headquarters of the national committee."

The members seemed to believe this a happy solution of the vexed question and it was adopted with very little debate.

It is the belief here that the quarters of the national committee will be located at Washington, with branches at New York and Chicago.

TWIN SHAFT DISASTER.

The Investigating Committee In Session at Shamokin.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Aug 12.—The commission appointed by Governor Hastings to investigate the cause and fix the responsibility of the Twin shaft mine disaster at Pittston, and consisting of Mine Inspectors Brennan, Stein, Roderick, met here today.

The committee will continue its work on the report to be submitted, and it will require about one month yet before the report is ready to be forwarded to Harrisburg.

Spangler Mentioned For Chairman.

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 12.—A movement has been started in Central Pennsylvania in behalf of Colonel J. L. Spangler of Bellefonte, for the chairmanship of the Democratic state central committee. It is said that a number of county chairman in this section of the state have already pronounced in favor of Colonel Spangler and it is claimed that the fact that he has not been allied with any of the Democratic factions of Pennsylvania may lead to his selection as state chairman.

State A. P. A. Convention.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Aug. 12.—The third annual convention of the A. P. A. is in session in this city. About 200 delegates are present. The secretary's report showed a large increase in membership. There is bitter opposition to G. A. Murdock of Allegheny, who is after a re-election as president, and secretary. Supreme Commander Eckels of Washington came here to adjust the matter, but the men who opposed the re-election will not give in.

William M. Singerly Resigns.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12.—William M. Singerly, who heads the list of electors nominated at the Democratic convention at Allentown, has forwarded to Chairman Wright his withdrawal from the ticket. The contents will be made public at the state committee meeting in Harrisburg tomorrow.

NEWS FROM HEADQUARTERS.

What Callers of Both Parties Report at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Senator Shoup of Idaho was among the callers at the Republican headquarters. He is here to secure campaign literature for his section. Mr. Shoup gave the committee encouraging reports as to the status of affairs in Idaho.

He says a most active and aggressive campaign will be started in his state in the near future.

Word reached the committee of a partial canvass of Mr. Bryan's home town, Lincoln, and the county of Lancaster, in which it is situated. The county committee distributed blanks and sought to secure an accurate canvass. In two precincts reported the result was McKinley, 219; Bryan, 44. The poll of University place, a leading center, was McKinley, 126; Bryan, 14; Prohibition, 19; uncertain, 22. It is claimed that while the returns are incomplete they establish the general character of the whole.

Chairman Babcock and Vice Chairman Apsley have returned, making the executive force complete for the first time in some weeks.

At Democratic headquarters there is a lull, as the managers have gone to New York for the meeting of the national committee and the Bryan reception. It is estimated at headquarters that the Washington delegation to the Bryan notification will number 500, although there has been no organized movement owing to the failure to get special railroad rates.

The demonstrations along the route of Mr. Bryan's trip are regarded at the Democratic headquarters as most significant.

At the silver headquarters the sudden and mysterious death of Mr. Pile, who was in nominal charge pending the arrival of the secretary, A. E. Diffenderfer, has cast a gloom over affairs. Chairman Lane, who is expected here soon, will fill the place made vacant by Mr Pile's death, and in the meantime Mr Diffenderfer and A. J. Wedderburn will be in charge of the headquarters.

FREE SILVER MEN CONTROL.

The West Virginia Democratic State Convention In Session Today.

WHEELING, Aug. 12.—The state Democratic convention is meeting here today.

The free silver men are in the majority, 16 to 1, and are demanding that none but silver men be placed on guard. All interest centers in the contest for governor, there being four candidates, C. C. Watts, United States district attorney; I. C. Ralphsnyder, who is the Populist nominee; Judge W. G. Bennett, and Colonel C. L. Smith. Watts has the lead with pledged delegates and his friends claim his nomination on the first ballot.

The whole field is against Watts, who has the support of the state administration. His opponents are trying to make a combination to defeat him, claiming that his connection with the Cleveland administration would not make him strong with the silver people. Ralph Snyder is trying to force a fusion with the Populists, but the chances are that all attempts at fusion may fail, though the Populists may be recognized in some way.

Hon. Rankin Wiley of Mason county is temporary chairman, which is a victory for the anti-Watts forces.

The First district Democrats nominated W. W. Arnett, a prominent Wheeling attorney, for congress.

In the Second district, now represented by Mr. Dayton, W. G. Brown of Kingwood was nominated.

FUSION WITH POPULISTS.

Vacancies on the Ohio Democratic Ticket to Be Offered.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 12.—The Democratic state central committee met here and selected Daniel J. McConville of Steubenville, formerly sixth auditor of the treasury, as chairman of the state executive committee with power to name members of the committee and the secretary. A committee was appointed, consisting of Chairman W. W. Durbin of the state central committee, Chairman McConville of the executive committee and Colonel Ike Hill of Newark A. J. Wolf of Youngstown and W. G. Thompson of Lebanon, to attend the Populist state convention at Springfield Aug. 26, and, if possible, arrange for a fusion.

There are two vacancies on the Democratic state ticket, that of state dairy and food commissioner, caused by the death of Patrick McKeown of Cincinnati, and that of judge of supreme court, caused by the resignation of Judge J. Blandin of Cleveland. The Democratic state central committee proposes as an inducement to the Populists to fuse to allow them to fill these two places on the ticket.

The state central committee adjourned to Sept. 1 to await the action of the Populist convention. As 52,000 Populist votes were cast in Ohio for governor in 1894 the proposed fusion on the state ticket is regarded as a good thing.

Judge A. S. Landis' law office at Hollidaysburg was robbed. Only papers belonging to clients whose names commenced with G were stolen, and it is suspected the motive was to secure information of the whereabouts of Cashier Harry A. Gardner of the Second National bank.

James Farrell, who was recently convicted of the murder of Henry Bonnecka, petitioned the Blair county courts for a new trial. His grounds are that the crime was perpetrated by John H Hildebrand, who committed suicide two weeks ago in a Baltimore penitentiary after confessing to the murder.

A WELCOME PROPHECY.

The Weather Man Promises a Cooler Atmosphere.

CHANGE LIKELY BY NIGHTFALL.

Almost 200 More Added to the List of Dead From the Heat Throughout the Country—A Fierce Storm Likely on the Atlantic Coast.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The weather bureau holds out moderate relief for the east and central states today.

It was with some pride that Major Dunwoody referred to the area of high barometer which he sighted off the Rockies in the northern part. The area then central over the Mississippi valley moved to the northeast and was bound out to sea over the St. Lawrence valley, dragging the high temperature in its wake. With the high came the fall of temperature which panting humanity has been waiting for so impatiently for ten days or more. Montana, Colorado, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska felt its cool breath and enjoyed a fall of temperature of from 10 to 15 degrees. It traveled about 500 miles in the 24 hours.

Major Dunwoody says it will move eastwardly at a little more rapid pace during the next few hours and be central over the Ohio valley and the lower lake region tonight and reach the Atlantic coast by tomorrow morning. The government weather sharp wants it understood that this is not a cold wave, but merely a relief from the excessive and almost unprecedented hot spell. While he makes no definite predictions, he ventures the statement that a storm from the West Indies usually comes sweeping up the coast about this time and it is betraying no confidence to say that he would not be surprised to see one rushing along within the next four or five days.

If such a storm should come it would cool things east of the Alleghenies and affect the atmosphere generally 600 or 700 miles into the interior. There has not been a revolution of the wind east of the mountains in ten days. The vane has shifted from west to south. Altogether this protracted hot spell can be classed as remarkable. The high temperature in the prairie county has lasted 20 days, in the western gulf states a fortnight and on the Atlantic seaboard a week.

The highest temperatures yesterday were at Philadelphia, 98; New York and Albany, 94; Washington, 94; Norfolk, Va., 98; Montgomery, Ala., 98; Abilene, Tex., 96; St. Louis, 96; Chicago, 94. Along the Pacific coast the mercury ranged from 60 to 70, but at some points like Roseberry, 30 miles back from San Francisco, the thermometer registed 100.

NEW YORK.—Another day of fearful heat which is oppressing this section has added a page of fatalities and sufferings more remarkable than its predecessors. In New York city, in Brooklyn and all the adjacent towns throughout the states of New York and New Jersey the day's reports of deaths and prostrations overshadow the record of any other day in many years. In this city alone the death list contains more than 100. Brooklyn adds about 20 to the list and the heat's victims in suburban towns brings the total to 150.

Men and women waiking along the streets have dropped in their tracks and died before physicians could be summoned and horses have died as though stricken by applague.

Many factories have been closed and outdoor workers have been compelled to drop their tools and find shelter during the hours when the sun was at its height. Particularly among policemen and lettercarriers has the suffering been intense and many have been compelled to stop work from both forces.

Along the business streets men have walked with umbrellas over their heads with coats on their arms and fans in their hands. The hospitals of this city are crowded to their full capacity, while the doctors and nurses have been kept at work night and day until many of them have succumbed to the strain. The department of public works has come to the relief of the fenement house districts and forces of men with hosecarts are patrolling the streets of these sections and flooding them with water from the corner hydrants. Men, women and children rush in groups under the streams from the hose.

PHILADELPHIA — The heat reached 95½ degrees. Seven deaths and 40 prostrations were reported.

Reports received from various parts of the state show a continuation of the hot weather and a number of prostrations are reported. The extensive locomotive shops of the Erie Railway company, at Susquehanna, were forced to close indefinitely. The stone quarry at Yardley was also forced to close also. Reports of a similar nature come from other places. At Shamokin men were overcome and a few of these are seriously ill.

CHICAGO.—A good breeze tempered the heat to the suffering people of this city today, although the thermometer registered 93. The deadly effect of the high temperature, however, continues and 30 fatal cases of sunstroke were reported with the list still incomplete. About 50 cases of prostration, more or less serious, have occurred.

The number of persons driven insane by the heat will probably never be known, but its effect in that direction may be estimated from the fact that during the week 28 persons have been locked up in the Detention hospital, all of whom had been driven crazy by the heat.

KANSAS CITY.—The heat reached 97 here. No prostrations.

CINCINNATI—The heat reached over 92 here. Six sunstrokes, but none fatal.

ST. LOUIS—The temperature reached 97. A number of deaths occurred.

A Political Leader Drowned.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The police thus far have failed to secure any clue as to the mystery surrounding the death of A. H. It is believed to have been accidental.

WHEELMEN HAVE THE CITY.

The L. A. W. Meet Now on In Force at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 12.—Louisville and her hundreds of L. A. W. guests are awheel. Not satisfied with having materially curtailed the field of usefulness of the Kentucky thoroughbred, this jolly crowd with their fin de siecle steeds have invaded the Blue Grass domain, where he so long held complete sway. Country runs were the feature of yesterday's program, and those that attracted the greatest interest among the visitors, were the spins to the numerous stock farms a few miles from Louisville.

Mayor Todd has issued a proclamation declaring tomorrow afternoon a half holiday in honor of the League of American Wheelmen. On that afternoon the city hall will be closed and city employes will be given an opportunity to attend the races, which begin that afternoon at the track.

Last night there was a highly enjoyable "smoker" at headquarters.

Today's program includes a century run over the original century course to Frankfort and return; runs to New Albany, Jeffersonville and the Falls of the Ohio; a grand parade and a watermelon feast at Iroquois park in the evening.

DIED ON THE FIRE ESCAPE.

Three Perished In a Blaze Destroying Two New York Buildings.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—At least three persons and possibly others were burned to death in a fire that destroyed a six-story brick building at 465 Greenwich street and the five-story building at 467. Several persons were injured by the smoke and heat and by jumping and two of them are expected to die.

The dead are: William Gray, foreman of electrical repair shops, and two unknown men, all of whom were caught on a fire escape and burned to death in view of the crowd.

The injured, who are expected to die, are: Felix Haas and an unknown man. The other persons hurt went to a hospital and then home.

THE CHICAGO FAILURE.

A Plan to Help Diamond Match and New York Biscuit.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—The agreements under which Diamond Match and New York Biscuit stock is to be deposited with the Northern Trust company as trustees are ready for signature. The exact terms of these agreements will not be given to the public until the signatures are received and the stock is ready for deposit.

They provide, however, the stock shall be placed in the keeping of the trustees for a period of one year, and the banks and capitalists who own it are to be given non-negotiable receipt for the stock deposited. It is said the agreements will be signed and the stock deposited immediately.

Three Tramps Killed.

PIEDMONT, W. Va., Aug. 12.—There has been a freight wreck on the main line of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, at the foot of the Alleghenies mountains. Several cars were piled up and the road blockaded both ways. Three tramps who were stealing a ride were caught under the wreck and killed. The accident was caused by the train parting while going down the 17-mile grade.

Not a Victim of Foul Play.

PARKERSBURG, W Va., Aug. 12.—The body of Carrie Conway, the Pittsburg girl who mysteriously disappeared from Sistersville last week, was found in the Ohio river near that place, and was identified by jewelry.
